MAKE OFFICIAL REPORT

By Sinking of Famous British Sub.

London, via Montreal, Dec. 25.—The official report of the sinking of the British submarine E-14 was received here today. The vessel was lost in 1918 with the loss of her commander, Lieutenant-Commander Geoffrey White, and all except seven of the crew, has just been published.

The E-14 left Madras in the evening of Jan. 17 and proceeded on the Dardanelles to search for the Goeben. After several days of searching she found the Goeben had left a few hours previously, so Commander White turned back, keeping a sharp lookout for the submarine.

A torpedo was fired at the ship which caused the Goeben's ammunition, causing a heavy explosion which exhausted the submarine's lights and sprung the mine hatch. Looking badly the submarine rose to the surface. The Goeben immediately opened a heavy fire, but did not hit her. She submerged 100 feet continued on her course, but was immediately opened on both sides of the straits and a shell hit the hull, destroying the upper steering gear.

An E-14 survivor says:

"Orders were given to steer from below and we ran the gauntlet for half an hour, only a few shots hitting us. The captain, seeing that escape was hopeless, ran toward shore. His last words were: 'We are in God's hands.' A few seconds later I looked for him and saw his body, mangled by the explosion, roll into the water and go down. The last shell hit the starboard side of our boat, killing all near it, I am the only survivor left."

Do it now—Whistle.—(Adv.)

FOR RESTORATION UNIVERSAL PEACE

President Wilson Imparts Glad Tidings First to Soldiers Who Won War and Made Peace Possible.

—Leaves France for England.

Chamont, Dec. 24.—(A. P.)—President Wilson received a most cordial welcome yesterday from the people of Chamont, a town which has been closely associated with the history of the American expeditionary forces in France, and is now the headquarters of the commander-in-chief. It is the town from which America's part in finishing the war was directed.

Things were in motion early for the review. When the president passed the curtain of window in his car, a person he saw was a strapping American doughboy on guard, who gravely came to salute. The president smilingly gave him a "Merry Christmas" and made him the happiest soldier in France. A French troop train passing gave a "Vive Wilson."

As his train moved in, the president saw on every hand monuments to America's participation in the war. There were great piles of supplies everywhere, and American soldiers swarmed on locomotives, box cars, tree tops and every point of vantage to get a glimpse of the president and shout a "Merry Christmas." The folks back home would have called it the dearest Christmas day in history, but it was the most important day in the history of the world.

It is one of the happy things about Chamont that it may be that the danger is eliminated by treating the subject as a whole. The danger is that the people of Chamont will have this very effect. The Cuba Railroad company and the many merchants who have suffered hundreds of thousands of dollars in damages resulting from the strike that has tied up the three eastern provinces for weeks are not, however, able to see the point.
